

The Brookline Police Department's Community Service Division offers a wide range of programs designed to help and educate their community in issues concerning public safety. For more information on our currently available programs, including class dates, please choose a program from the list on the left side of this page.

Officers in the Community Service Division are trained to offer security surveys, free of charge, to Brookline residents and homeowners. We also provide classroom lessons in bicycle safety, "stranger danger", club drug education, identity theft and telemarketing scams, gun safety, internet safety and other issues of concern to the children and adults in our community, as well as station tours and personal safety information sessions.

If you would like more information on any of these programs, or to suggest an area that may be of interest to our Community, please call the Brookline Police Department Community Service Division at 730-2248.
